

~Preschool~

Wow June has flown by! We enjoyed kicking off summer with playdough, slime, bubbles and chalk. The class enjoyed experimenting with various ingredients, measuring and getting a little messy! Another one of our highlights was celebrating the first official day of summer with popsicles! We can't wait to continue the fun into July.

This month our focuses will be red/white/blue, spin art, water play and summer Olympics. July will start with getting ready to celebrate America's birthday with crafts, stories and prepping for a 4th of July classroom parade. Spin art week will follow with the children experimenting with a variety of colors to create art to display around our classroom. For tie dye week the class will try tie dyeing socks instead of shirts this year. All socks will be provided by Bloom. During water play week we will work together to create waterspouts along our playground fence, practice pouring from various size containers as we work on control and containing as we pour. Lastly, we will get ready for our own summer Olympics during the last week of the month. The children will partake in fun games, some individual and some group, to compete for a gold medal!

We are preparing for our first field trip of the summer to the Splash Pad! Weather permitting, we are heading to the splash pad on Tuesday July 9th. The school bus will leave Bloom at 9:30, please have your child to school by 8:45. We ask that you send your child to school with their swimwear under their clothing. Clothes to change into after the splash pad can be left at your child's cubby. For this trip your child will need a swimsuit, towel and water shoes.

Preschool is looking forward to a fun July!

Happy July,
Your Preschool Team
